Exploring the natural and exotic

Mombasa Wallpaper & Fabric. Saybrook Chair in Stockholm Chevron. Draperies in Coromandel.

Colony is a curated collection of wallcoverings and fabrics influenced by centuries-old techniques of African craft and textiles that travelled the trade routes. Graphic mudcloth and chevron designs, loosely painted florals and a scenic tiger reserve landscape come together with a coordinating tailored plaid, bold giraffe print, and primitive shapes. This abundant collection is filled with colors ranging from natural earthy tones and greys to vibrant crimson reds, deep blues, verdant greens and saffron that were inspired by artisanal natural dyes.

Colony Patterns

CHAPPANA

Chappana means “stamping” in Hindi. It’s a very fitting name for this pattern that was taken from a hand-blocked Indian fabric. The stripes and linear motifs create long vertical lines.
